Hello, my name is Mike Smith. I have thirsty-eight years. I lives in a beautiful town near to Dublin called Dunboyne. I lives with my wife, Lisa, and ours two childrens, Carol and Dave. I are a gardener and i love my job because i can see how my plants grows every day.

My wife is an shop assistant. She work in a shoe shop beautiful in the centre of the town. In this area are there a lot of shop. They are smalls and olds but a lot of people goes there because the things is modern and have a quality excellent. Lisa isn't like very big shops because she think they is very cold, they not give the opportunity of exchanging opinions between the shop assistant and the costumers, that's why she don't works in a shopping center. She always is talking to the costumers and she know that they loves it; she says always that this is the reason whereby her shop is full of peoples. I know she do is a good shop assistant and she love his job.
